"The Common Assemblage": A Art Museum with No Walls

"The Common Assemblage" is located in the wall-less art museum in the streets and alleyways of a city. Lin Hong-John, the exhibition curator, aims to expand the arts into the public space. Lin has invited several artists-in-residence from the 435 Art Zone New Taipei City, to create artistic installations in the streets of Fuzhong. These works, which forms a dialogue with the urban environment, incorporates the daily experience of the local residents and the historical trajectory of the Fuzhong area. This approach assembles a new "common" entity. Amongst the works, Satoru Kondo's Treasure focuses on the residents frequenting Huang Shi Market to create a psychological photomap of the area. As a written form of the light, photography allows the artist to reveal the treasures hidden in the dark.

Alley 24, Wenchang Street- a landscape in which the time passes through

This collective project includes Screen 24, a photography exhibition, and Floral Window 24. Hsiao-wei Huang, artist and curator, has teamed up with the local residents. The team has chosen Alley 24 of Wenchang Street as a study case for aesthetic demonstration, transforming the traditional alleyways into a collective gallery hallway, showcasing the industries of the Fuzhong area. The team, including photographers, residents and the Chihlee University of Technology team, have captured the heartfelt moments of the past and present. In the autumnal Banqiao, you will hear time's footsteps through the old alleyway.

Our other programs include "Our Fashionable Grandma," encouraging all beautiful and fashionable grandmothers to partake our beauty context. The winners will be able to showcase their catwalk skills and receive an award! We also offer "Fashion Lucky Charms," "Cihui Temple Blessings" and "Stamp Collection."
