Its diverse landscape provides an ideal setting for multiple dialogues and a starting point for exploration of the unknown. With its unique natural and cultural landscapes, the City is energized by its artists from different generations and backgrounds. Our artists, having inspired by their daily experience, develop the foundation of the City's urban culture through endless experimentation and imaginative power. Through these creations, participations and practices, our artists have turned New Taipei

The Largest Artist Platform in New Taipei City

"New Taipei City Artist Group Show" is the largest and most-participated platform for artists to create, share and learn from each other. The exhibition, which runs concurrently with the Art Festival on March 25th each year, gathers the works of our celebrated local artists, who dazzles our exhibition space with their classic or recent works. The categories include oil painting, watercolor, ink painting, calligraphy, seal carving, printing, photography, ceramics, mixed media and nihonga. This is a great platform for artists to share ideas and inspiration. As an art lover, you cannot miss this great opportunity to be immersed in beauty.

A Macroscopic View for Fostering Greater Artistic Energy

This year, upon the completion of a main section of the New Taipei City Art Museum, we sense that artistic energy, which is both accumulative and continuous, is deeply intertwined with the environment. Therefore, this year we have named this annual exhibition: "To the Moment: In Retrospect of Art Sights-free West."

"To the Moment" implies that the space and time are a result of the creative language of the artist "to look from afar." It is a subtle process and involves a space and time that are shared by human beings both individually and collectively. In their work, our artists capture the cultural landscape interwoven by cities and countryside around us.

The New Taipei City is known for being a cultivating ground for local artists and creative energy, which leads to its unique artistic ecosystem. Just prior to the opening of the New Taipei City Art Museum, we would love to showcase the long-lasting art history of New Taipei City and the contribution of our artistic community through this "Group Exhibition." We pay tribute "To the Moment," and approach our artistic traditions with a broader perspective. It is our ultimate goal to continue cultivating greater artistic energy and share our talents with the international community.

Nine Gallery Spaces with 328 Artists

This year we have made the following two major changes:

- 1) We have invited 328 artists to participate.
- 2) All exhibitions will run simultaneously in nine New Taipei City cultural institutions, including the New Taipei City Arts Center, Yong-An Arts Center, Xingzhuang Cultural Arts Center, Yingge Ceramics Museum, Hakka Museum, New Taipei City Youth Library, and in the following branches of our City Library, such as the Tamsui, Luzhou Jixian and Shulin branches.

We have also organized a series of programs, workshops and lectures. Don't miss out on this great opportunity to get closer to art.
